

⚠ BREAKING CHANGES

- The default export, which used to be the `v4()` method but which was already discouraged in `v3.x` of this library, has been removed.
- Explicitly note that deep imports of the different uuid version functions are deprecated and no longer encouraged and that ECMAScript module named imports should be used instead. Emit a deprecation warning for people who deep-require the different algorithm variants.